MARCH 2020

From the Pastor's Desk

Dear people of God at Good Shepherd Lutheran Church,

I did not get my article into Pat before I left on vacation. That was my bad. Now I am on vacation and doing a little something. Call it penance for neglecting my responsibilities. Otherwise, I would not be doing this.

I have tried, over my years at Swan's Trail, to honor the vacation time the congregation graciously gives to me and, by extension, my family. I have really tried not to do work while I am away. Being away is important, for both me and you. It is a very helpful way for the congregation to understand that while the vocation of pastor is 24/7 when I am around, it is not 24/7 when I am away. When I am away, I am away, and honoring that is a great gift and helps the congregation realize I have a life away from the church and that needs to be honored and upheld as well. And over my time you have done just that, whatever has come up has waited until I got home. Only a couple of times have I been called but never cut a vacation short. You understood my need to be away, to regroup, to think about something else for a while or think about nothing at all for a while. I felt better when I got home and I thank you for that.

It also helps reinforce the biblical notion of rest that is built into the very order of creation itself. This is not new but you know it to be true, rest is essential for our very existence, either a rest for one or two days or one or two weeks. However or whatever you find to be restful, make sure you do that to be your best in God's world.

God's blessings to you as you find your rest.

THANK YOU TO

- All the unknown laborers who do work behind the scenes that no one ever notices but we would notice if it was not done.
- Bonnie Thoreson and the choir for their continuing musical worship offerings that so greatly enhance our worship time.
- Pastor Tom for all his help in reviewing and revising each month's newsletter!
- Jeff Thoreson for filling in for Pastor Tom.

- The anonymous donor who provided and installed the new security cameras.
- Marilyn Sheppard and her helpers for the great breakfast....and to all who provided such wonderful additions to the hotcakes and sausages!

Remember that Daylight Savings time begins on March 8 so set your clocks ahead one hour before you go to bed on March 7.

CHURCH COUNCIL MEETING

The next meeting is on Sunday, March 22 following worship. Please refer any agenda items to Chad Masche. Council Meetings are open to all.

CHURCH WEBSITE is at www.swanstrail.org Take a look when you get the chance. It has some good links to other church related websites that might be helpful to you. It also has the Sunday readings for those who like to look ahead or want to practice before reading on Sunday morning. Suggestions of what to include in the site are most welcomed.

WORSHIP HELPERS AND PREPARERS FOR SUNDAYS are needed in several areas for March and April. The book for sign ups is in the fellowship hall under the mail boxes. There are many open spaces for readers, communion assistants, fellowship hosts, and stapling the bulletin.

PARKING REMINDER

If you happen to park on the west side of the church, please note that you can enter the church at the door behind the stairs rather than walk around to the front....a much drier route!

MINISTRY OF WORSHIP – Pat Davis

As we enter the month of March we are beginning to look for and see signs of spring. The worship service continues to be blessed with the music of piano, organ and voices of our choir. The notebook of ways in which to assist with services is waiting for you to sign up in whatever capacity you desire. Looking beyond the season of Lent we are going to change things up a bit for Easter Sunday. Instead of fresh lilies we are going to put vases of spring cut flowers in the altar area. Watch for the sign up sheet to assist with that.

Remember that Wednesday Lenten Services begin on Ash Wednesday, February 26, at 7pm with a Soup and Bread Dinner preceding it at 6pm and continue through until Holy Week. There is a sign up sheet in the Fellowship Hall for providing bread and dessert...bring a soup as you are able.

Lutheran Counseling Network Faith and Everyday Life, 2020

A soft answer turns away wrath, but a harsh word stirs up anger. (Proverbs 15:1)

When couples come into the therapy room, they are usually at odds with each other. Harsh words fly, and anger is stirred between them. They blame and point fingers at each other, their voices raised and their eyebrows knitted in anger.

I've begun to see angry behavior like this as a shield, a protection. It's too risky to show each other how much they hurt, and how much they care about each other, so they hide behind their protections and blame. In the therapy room, we are able to slow down their arguments and discover what goes on inside, where they may harbor fears that their partner doesn't understand them, doesn't care about them, perhaps doesn't even love them. The more the couple is able to get down beneath the anger and protection to more vulnerable emotions and share them from a softer, more vulnerable place, the more the partners begin to see each other in new ways. When one partner tentatively and vulnerably shares the fear that the other doesn't care about them, the other partner is able to respond with compassion rather than defensive anger. This begins a new pattern of vulnerability and risk that helps the partners reach for each other and rebuild their bond. I see God at work in this process. God creates us in love, and creates us for loving relationship – with God and with each other. When our sin and brokenness get in the way, God shows us how to take down our protections and reach for each other with love and forgiveness, and a true desire to know one another. It's true for us as couples, as families, as congregations and communities. When we live this way, we make room for God's love to grow in our homes, our churches, our world.
